*WISDOM*COMMUNITY*DIGNITY*HOPE

Well that was a slightly different Easter holidays - hope you have managed to enjoy some of the time despite these strange circumstances we are in. My household definitely ate plenty of chocolate!

Yesterday the government announced that we would remain in lockdown for at least another three weeks, so as a staff we are gearing back to delivering home learning and school being open for those who need care to allow their children to be safe with us whilst being a key worker or due to a vulnerable situation.

The home learning regime we had in place before the holidays seemed to be working well and so with a few small adjustments I attach an update on how the learning will continue to be organised. For some of you we have received the further delivery of CGP books and we will organise distribution of these and let you know when/how. Every child should be doing some sort of learning daily from Monday. We have set up a range of options which means a variety of different activities and experiences can take place. We will from Monday be checking a little more closely what is being achieved and ensuring we have regular contact from each and every one of you - just like we would on a daily basis with your children at school. Teachers are more than happy for emails to be sent (in working hours!) and they will respond as they were before the holidays. If they haven't heard from you they will email you directly or maybe even call you to check on you and your child and that everything is well, giving further support if needed.

All children have the opportunity for 2 virtual sessions a week which allows for not only social interactions but hopefully some learning too. Please adhere to the rules we set out for KS2 with Microsoft Teams.

Teachers have been busy writing reports and most of these are now with me ready to email out next Friday. Whilst maybe not that useful a document to you right now they may well be the last report you receive this academic year about your child so important that we share where teachers felt your child was before we left school.

Staff have had a range of CPD that they have been completing too as well as looking forward to new topic maps and plans.

Primary Admissions were released this week and once again we are full!

Overleaf is Round 4 in the quiz and two more staff profiles for you.

Take care everyone- look forward to seeing you all soon,

Kind regards,

Sarah Smith, Head Teacher
